Property Complex for Sale in Amandola (FM) - Renovation Project with Post-Earthquake Grant

Set in the rolling hills of Amandola, within the stunning Sibillini Mountains National Park, this substantial property represents an excellent investment opportunity. Nestled in a peaceful natural setting yet close to all amenities, it offers huge potential for redevelopment.

Amandola is a historic Marche town, well known for its artistic heritage, lively cultural traditions, and excellent location for outdoor pursuits such as walking, cycling, and food & wine trails. The area is highly sought after by both Italian and international buyers for its authenticity and tranquillity.

The complex sits on the edge of the residential and tourist accommodation area of the town, ensuring privacy while maintaining easy access to local services. The grounds extend to approx. 8,000 sqm, much of which falls into a completion zone, opening up scope for further development. Adding further appeal, the property includes a productive truffle grove - a unique feature for anyone interested in small-scale agriculture or gourmet experiences.

Originally built in 1967, the buildings offer around 610 sqm of accommodation. The structures are solid but require full renovation.

Importantly, the property benefits from eligibility for a public reconstruction grant of approx. €400,000 following the 2016 earthquake. As no project has yet been submitted, the buyer has the flexibility to work with a surveyor/architect to adapt the plans and tailor the redevelopment to personal needs.

With its size, location, and potential for extension, the estate would lend itself perfectly to a private residence with guest accommodation, such as an agriturismo, boutique B&B, or wellness retreat.

The setting is truly spectacular, with uninterrupted panoramic views of the Sibillini Mountains and the surrounding valley - a rare chance to create a home in an oasis of beauty and calm.
